GILES'
LINIMENT IODIDE OF AMMONIA.

A Message to the Suffering.

When a remedy is productive of such relief as to excel all other remedies in its curative results, it is a duty to make it known as generally as possible. This consideration has actuated the proprietor, WM. M. GILES, to bring before the public his LINIMENT IODIDE AMMONIA.

The remarkable cures it has effected classes it as one of the most important and valuable remedies ever discovered for the cure and relief of pain in any form. It cures Neuralgia, Face Ache, Rheumatism, Gout, Frosted Feet, Chilblains, Sore Throat, Erysipelas, Bruises and Wounds of every nature, in which the effects of external application are almost magical, and in which its internal administration is found to be most efficacious. Physicians prescribe it for their patients and accord it their unhesitating approval as an invaluable discovery.

The LINIMENT IODIDE OF AMMONIA is an essential app intment in all well-regulated stables, and where large numbers of horses are provided for, and where there is a liability to the visitation of a class of epidemic diseases for which this preparation is a recognized remedy. No stable should be without it, for no stable can really be deemed safe that is not supplied with it.

We append a few of the many testimonials bearing testimony to the universal favor with which this medicine has been received by the public.

TESTIMONIALS.

In stiffness and soreness of the muscles and joints, rheumatic pains, I have experienced immediate relief from GILES' LINIMENT IODIDE OF AMMONIA.
THOMAS BAKER, Wallack's Theatre.

For headache, neuralgia, sore throat, inflamed joints of the feet, GILES' LINIMENT IODIDE OF AMMONIA gave immediate relief.
I. HENRY KAGONIGLE, Booth's Theatre.

MR. WM M GILES, Chemist 451 Sixth Avenue: I suffered with rheumatic pains in my limbs and joints, and found no relief until I tried your LINIMENT IODIDE OF AMMONIA, with immediate relief. Am now cured. ROBERT H. SMITH, Head Pantryman on board steamer Jesse Hoyt.

GILES' LINIMENT IODIDE OF AMMONIA is a sure cure for ague in the breast, and removes all swellings and hard lumps. A NURSING MOTHER.

NEW HAVEN, Aug 7, 1871.
DR. GILES.—While on duty as brakeman on engine 47, about ten miles from this city, on Shore Line Road, was accidentally thrown off against a rock, train under full head, about thirty-five miles an hour. Was very badly bruised. Your agent was on board. He furnished me with two bottles of LINIMENT IODIDE OF AMMONIA, from which I received the greatest possible benefit. In four days I was able to sit up, and am now ready to commence work. My aged mother is so used the Liniment for rheumatism, which it cured. JOHN GAFFNEY.

BARNUM'S HIPPODROME.—We have never found anything equal to GILES' LINIMENT IODIDE OF AMMONIA. Bruises, wounds, stiffness, lameness, pains in the muscles, swellings immediately disappear. It is just what we long wanted, and we now use nothing else. In thirty years' experience in Europe and America I have never met anything like it.
L. B. WOODS, Veterinary Surgeon, Barnum's Hippodrome.

NEW YORK, June 1st.
MR. WM. M. GILES, Chemist. Sir—Your new discovery, LINIMENT IODIDE OF AMMONIA, surpasses anything for splints, strains, lameness in the limbs or shoulders, &c., wind galls, and hard bony swellings on the joints. It is truly marvelous.
Yours very truly, RALPH OGLE, Veterinary Surgeon, 330 West 25th st.

BOSTON, July 13, 1874.
MR. W. M. GILES—In the match between the Athletics of Philadelphia and the Boston club, played July 13th, 1874, at Boston, I fell and dislocated my left knee cap. Your agent fortunately happened to be present. He instantly applied your Liniment, and with instant relief.
HARRY C. SHAFFER, Boston Base Ball Club.

BOSTON, Sept. 14, 1874.
MR. WILLIAM M. GILES, Chemist. Dear Sir—Your Agent, Mr. Guy S. Frazy, called on me early in July last to introduce your LINIMENT IODIDE OF AMMONIA. Being a skeptic in regard to the great variety of articles patent for the cure of all sorts of diseases, I had no faith in your Iodide, but, after a long discussion with your agent, it occurred to me that I had a horse I was using for private that had a large lump on his near forward leg. I told him if he thought it would remove that bunch, I would try it. Suffice it to say, I have used it very persistently till the present time, and I now find it nearly removed, and think it will shortly disappear entirely. From this trial of your remedy I cheerfully recommend it also to any one who has a horse or horses afflicted in this way. I would further say, that while using it for the above, the same horse started another bunch on the off leg, the Liniment was applied immediately, and the bunch has disappeared.

To the Hon. the Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court, now in session at Bangor, within and for the County of Penobscot.

Ellen E. Leathers, of Carmel, in the County of Penobscot, respectfully represents, that she was married at Etna, in said County, on the 7th day of April, 1860, to Orelas Leathers, then of said Carmel, that since her intermarriage she has conducted herself as a true, chaste and affectionate wife and borne him two female children, one named Mary Ellen, aged four years and one named Lillian F., aged three years, both of whom are now in her custody and supported by her, that while they lived together he utterly failed in supporting and maintaining her or the children in a suitable manner, that he treated her with extreme cruelty while living together, and that finally, in August, 1871, he utterly abandoned her and the children, and has neither lived with her as a husband, nor contributed to her support or that of their children; also that he has gone out of the State and to parts to her unknown, that she has used all due diligence in trying to discover his present residence, and that she cannot ascertain where he makes it his home, or where it is.

Wherefore she prays that after such notice as the Court may order, a divorce may be decreed between her and her said husband and that the custody of her two said children may be decreed to her.

ELLEN E. LEATHERS.

Bangor, Nov. 11, 1874.

PENOBSCOT, ss. November 11, 1874.
Personally appeared the above named Ellen E. Leathers, and made oath to the truth of the several allegations in the foregoing libel, particularly as to the allegations relating to the residence of her said husband, and the diligence used by her to ascertain it.

LEWIS BARKER, Justice of the Peace.

STATE OF MAINE.

PENOBSCOT, ss. Supreme Judicial Court, October Term, 1874.

Ellen E. Leathers, vs. Orelas Leathers.

On the foregoing libel, ordered,—That said libellant give notice to the said libelee, of the pendency thereof, by publishing an attested copy of said libel and this order of Court thereon, three weeks successively in the Bangor Weekly Courier, a paper published in Bangor in said county, the last publication to be thirty days at least before the first Tuesday of January next, that he may then appear in our said Court, to be holden at Bangor in and for said county, and show cause, if any he have, why the prayer of said libellant should not be granted.

Attest, E. C. BRETT, Clerk.

WHAT IS CONSUMPTION BUT Neglected Catarrh?
Cure one and you will cure the other.
THE CONSTITUTIONAL CATARRH REMEDY
Cures CATARRH CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES ARISING FROM IT, such as NEURALGIA, DEAFNESS, DIZZINESS, and DISAGREEABLE SOUNDS in the Head, droppings in the throat, unnatural discharges from the mucous membranes, Asthma, Derangements of the Bladder and Kidneys, and pain in the Back. Also, Colds, Coughs and all Consumptive tendencies. It cannot cure confirmed consumption, but will nip in the bud incipient consumption. Thousands of people can testify to the good results derived from the use of the Constitutional Catarrh Remedy.

Read the following certificate:

BRUNSWICK, Me., Nov. 3, 1873.
Messrs. Littlefield & Co.
Your Constitutional Catarrh Remedy is doing wonders. I took the trouble to see Mr. Chas. P. Moren of this place, and give you the facts in his case as I got them from him. At the time of the first disease his brother was quite sick with it, and took the Remedy, which cured him. Charles then commenced taking it for deafness, he having been so deaf since the age of 14 (now being 41) that his family did not converse with him except upon matters of importance, so felt some benefit from the first bottle, and now, after having taken three, hears better than he ever remembers hearing before in his life. He was so feeble that he could do but little work, and when he went to the village had to ride home in the bottom of the buggy, and was raised much matter from his lungs, but he is now quite smart, and feels confident of regaining his health.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN PATENTS
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS
For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,
No. 76 State Street, opposite Kilby Street, Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also, in Great Britain, France, and other Foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents executed on reasonable terms, with despatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"Mr. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART."

COMPARATIVE BIOMETRICAL STATEMENT.

Total amount at Risk	$6,227,174	$1,221,655
Number of Policies,	2,769	2,920
Number of Death Claims	12	23
Amount paid for Death Claims,	$78,077	$31,800
Number of Death Claims per 1,000 persons insured,	4.5	3.7
All N. Y. Companies,	11 9	12.9
Ratio of Death Claims to whole amount at Risk,	.47	.43
All N. Y. Companies,	1.15	1.07
Ratio of Death Claims and Expense to amount at Risk,	1.34	1.17
All N. Y. Companies,	2.53	2.52
Ratio of Death Claims to total Income,	11.05	10.76
All N. Y. Companies,	22.07	23.63
Ratio of Death Claims and Expenses to total Income,	41.65	28.63
All N. Y. Companies,	43.67	48.20
Ratio of total Expense of Management to total Income,	27.8	18.12
All N. Y. Companies,	27.09	25.14

The Official Report (N. Y.) shows that the ratio of the number of policies upon which claims were paid in all companies has advanced from 10.9 per thousand in 1872, to 11.9 in 1873. In the former year the American Popular lost 4.7, and in the latter 3.7 per thousand.

The rate of death claims and of expenses to total income, and to total amount at risk, increasing rather than diminishing in the case of the aggregate companies, being in both years very large, contrast strongly with the low ratio of this Company and its growing prosperity. In the light of these facts, its low premium rates are more than justified in a practical sense, as, in a scientific view, they are both equitable and secure.

Before the era of inflation in life insurance the old-plan companies are shown, by the reports to have done a comparatively small business, and it was doubtless, with the large premiums they required, comparatively safe. Some, commencing later, "pushed business" from the first, with a vehemence that created amazement, and already, in company with the older companies, are beginning to experience the reaction that must have been expected from the abnormal and indiscreet inflation.

The comparatively small (but really large for the kind) number of policies issued by this Company is one of the best evidences of its security—the rigid adherence to well established scientific principles, in the rating of risks, giving low premiums only to superior lives, and thus making the Company attractive to few others. It would surprise those not acquainted with the working of our plan, to know the number of applications received and the amount of labor and care expended in their examination and rating, all of which is just so much to the advantage of superior risks.

It will also be noticed that large business is not a guarantee of safety, for if the mortality is high, indicating a want of care or skill in selection, the larger the business, the more safety is imperiled; and while small business may not show care, large business does show carelessness. We could have shown a very large business from the start if we had been indifferent to the kind; but the kind is the question, and more work is necessary in doing the amount of our kind of business than would do four times as much that would be unprofitable to both the assured and to the Company.

The increase of our business during the past year, is as wholesome and encouraging as our losses are small.

Our ratio of increase has been:
In number of Policies, 105.78
In amount of Assurances, 118.45
The ratio of all N. Y. Co.'s has been:
In number of Policies, 102.22
In amount of Assurances, 103.50

WATER SUPPLY.

BANGOR, Nov. 28, 1874.

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier:

The friends of this Fitz and Hatcase pond project pretend to doubt that there is any law requiring them to submit this question to a vote of the people. I might answer this by asking them if there is any law by which this extraordinary measure may be fastened upon the city without submitting it to a vote of the people.

There is one principle of law which has never been doubted nor questioned in courts of justice, nor in private life. It is this: The principal may at all times control his agent in the execution of his trust. The citizens of Bangor are the principals, and the Mayor, Aldermen and Common Councilmen are their agents. The principals have never authorized their agents to bring the Fitz and Hatcase waters to this city. This is not in the ordinary course of municipal affairs. If the citizens have not elected them for this purpose; if the will of the citizens has not been expressed upon this question, their agents—the City Government—have no right to make such a contract; they are not agents for any such purpose. The Constitution of this State and of every State in the Union, provides for keeping such agencies within the scope of their duties. The Fifteenth Section of our State Constitution reads as follows. "The people have a right at all times in an orderly and peaceable manner to assemble to consult upon the common good, to give instructions to their representatives, and to request of either department of the government, by petition or remonstrance redress of their wrongs and grievances." This is one of our privial and organic rights. This right is brought down to the citizens of Bangor and secured to them in the city charter. The Nineteenth Section of that Charter reads as follows: "Be it further enacted, that general meetings of the citizens qualified to vote in city affairs, may, from time to time, be held to consult upon the public good, to instruct their representatives, and to take all lawful measures to obtain redress of any grievances according to the right secured to the people by the Constitution of this State; and such meetings may, and shall be duly warned by the Mayor and Aldermen upon request in writing of thirty qualified voters of said city."

Our grievance is this. Our agents who were not elected for this purpose, propose to make a contract with the Water Company, which will give that company a perpetual and exclusive franchise to furnish the city with water from Fitz and Hatcase ponds. Nearly five hundred citizens qualified to vote in city affairs have petitioned in writing the Mayor, Aldermen and Common Councilmen, requesting them before making such a contract, to duly warn a meeting of the citizens at the polls that they may instruct their representatives to make or not to make the proposed contract. The members of our City Government are the servants and not the masters of the people. Their duties, in this respect, are servile, not judicial. The law is mandatory. Are they afraid to give their masters an opportunity to express their will upon this measure? Let them rather, fear to disregard their legal duty. Water has never been introduced by any water company into any city or town in this country without having first submitted the question to a vote of the people. Is the Bangor City Government prepared to disregard the expressed wishes of so many citizens, the first principles of fairness and the law itself?

DAM AT TREAT'S FALLS.

BANGOR, Nov. 30, 1874.

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier:

Your paper of to-day suggests a point, on which an explanation is due from the Bangor Water Power Company. The point is, that it is now said that reliable estimates fix the cost of a dam and lock at Treat's Falls at eighty-five thousand dollars, whereas a very much greater cost was assumed three or four months ago, when the Water Power Company was an applicant for city aid. The explanation is that the dam estimated to cost, with lock, only $85,000, is only seven feet above high water, whereas the dam proposed three or four months ago was to be fifteen feet above high water. The last stated height would flow out the City Mills, for which the lowest price as yet obtained is $130,000, and would cause a great amount of other damage by flowage, which would not result from the smaller height of dam. And furthermore, the higher dam would cost in itself, and irrespective of flowage, very much more money than the lower dam.

But this lower dam, seven feet above high water, would give at least thirty-seven hundred horse-power, and after supplying the city with water, leave a surplus of three thousand horse-power, which would run two hundred thousand spindles, if devoted to cotton-spinning. And such a dam could be so constructed as to be raised hereafter, if circumstances should favor.

A MEMBER OF BANGOR WATER POWER COMPANY.

Trains commenced running over the Somerset railroad to Madison Bridge, Monday.—The town of Anson has just invested $28,000 in the road. Prominent and influential men of Solon, Embden and other towns along the route are moving to raise further loans. Mr. Appleton of Boston and other railroad men have recently been through the country from West Waterville to Augusta for the purpose of looking out the most feasible route for the Messalonskee & Kennebec railroad, preparatory to a survey.

Herbert Stevens of Monroe was thrown from a wagon one day last week, and had a rib broken.

Carrie Guptil, a girl employed in the New Pacific Mills in Lawrence, has disappeared under circumstances indicating suicide. She was twenty years of age, of American parentage, and belonged in Eastport. A note left by her for her sister says she is tired of living, and it is believed that she has drowned herself in the Merrimac.

STATE NEWS.

The diptheria is raging in Vienna, and some fatal cases are reported.

Uriah Miller, formerly of Lincolnville, died in Columbia, Cal., Oct. 23, aged 73 years.

A dandelion in full bloom was picked in Biddeford, Thursday.

Capt. Eben Willard's barn, in Cape Elizabeth was burned Wednesday night.

J. H. Macomber, esq., Postmaster at Milo, has resigned the office, to take effect December 31, 1874. He has held the office for more than twenty-five years.

A convict in the state prison at Thomaston on Monday, cut all the fingers off his right hand with a machine used for cutting leather in the shoe shop.

William A. Evans, a well known citizen of Bluehill died recently. He was a graduate of Waterville College, and for many years was employed in the Treasury Department.

Edward Holly of Farmington, while out gunning recently, mistook Franklin Paine for a partridge and planted a charge of shot in his thigh.

William A. French of Fayette, aged 20, attempted to draw a gun out of a wagon by the muzzle, and now suffers from a very sore thigh.

James Cole of Thorndike, while at work on the head of an ox last week was struck by the animal's horns and had three teeth knocked out and a bad cut inflicted on his cheek.

Ralph C. Johnson who died in Belfast, a few days ago, left property estimated at $2,000,000 which, except some insignificant bequests, all goes to his widow and son.

A child about four months old was found on the steps of the Portland Orphan Asylum Friday morning early. It was nearly frozen when found.

Last year 800,000 pounds of Finnan Haddies that is smoked Haddock, were cured in Portland. The fish are caught along the coast by sailing vessels carrying from six to twelve men.

The Sentinel says that there are now some four or five million feet of manufactured long and short lumber piled upon the wharves at Dennysville, and about the fields on both sides of the river.

Daniel Kiddeff, of Albion, sold on Friday last a yoke of oxen, weighing forty-nine hundred pounds, to Weld & Richardson. The cattle were unusually fine and measured 8 feet 9½ inches, and 8 feet 11 inches respectively.

The Orient says that Maj Sanger is to remain with Bowdoin College till next Commencement. The College Library has received a large and very valuable collection of the works, published in Switzerland, of the late Prof. Louis Agassiz, through the agency of his son, Alexander Agassiz, Curator of the Zoological Museum, Harvard College.

The American notes many marks of activity and improvement at the several granite quarries at Sullivan. Not far from 200,000 feet of granite has been cut and shipped from those quarries this year. The granite stands deservedly high on the market. The supply is inexhaustible. With the greatest ease, blocks of sixty or seventy feet in length can be obtained, and the edges are as straight as if jointed.

DEATH OF HON N G HICHBORN

When a day a two since we noted the dangerous illness of Hon N G Hichborn at his home in Stockton with the statement that his physician was more hopeful of his recovery, we had no thought that the hope would be so soon dispelled by the announcement of his death received to-day by telegraph. It is but a short time since we met Mr Hichborn in this city and, although he was never robust he appeared then in his usual health. We were only apprised of his sickness a few days ago and a private despatch informs us that he died at 3 A. M., Monday of … after an illness of only one week.

For many years Mr Hichborn has been a leading man in his community and his connection with public affairs has caused him to be known throughout the State. While largely engaged in business pursuits he took an active interest in politics carrying him the Republican party by which he was repeatedly called to positions of trust. He has been chosen to represent his community in the State Legislature and held the important office of State Treasurer continuously from 18.. to 1869. Having been prominently connected with the temperance organization in the State, in 186. he was nominated as a radical Temperance candidate for Governor, running against Chamberlain, Republican and Smith Democrat and receiving 4 73. votes. Since that time he has devoted himself to ship-building and the management of a large navigation interest and latterly to the promotion of the Penobscot Bay and River Railroad enterprise being chosen as the President of the Company. He has devoted much time to measures tending to the revival of our shipping interests and as President of the National Shipbuilders Association has put … his efforts to securing the favorable legislation of Congress to which those interests are so greatly indebted. In his exertions on behalf of a liberal way to open up communication with the thriving communities of the Penobscot shore he has been liberal yet untiring devoting to the enterprise a large share of his time for several years past.

A man of pure habits, earnest in his advocacy of temperance and other moral reforms … well informed and actively interested in the welfare of his community Mr Hichborn … esteemed as a citizen and … will … a serious loss. He was about … years of age and leaves a widow and … to bend in sad … stroke.

The convention did it however. It found that although our transportation and revenue systems are full of abuses the root of the whole trouble lies in the money question, the proper solution of which is the object of the new party. The required reform is to be attained by the Government withdrawing all bank notes and issuing its own paper money through its own agents which money shall be legal tender for all purposes and made interchangeable at the option of the holder with registered Government bonds bearing a rate of interest not exceeding 3 65 per cent per annum.

We need no discuss this project, which is simply one of those bubbles that rise to the surface of the caldron of public opinion when financial difficulties and popular ignorance are seething together. There is a certain portion of every community that is always liable to fall into these delusions as another class can be steadily counted upon to patronize clairvoyance quackery or Millerism. Since the class exists it is well to have it publicly represented and its views brought, so that they may be inspected by the common sense of the masses which is often worth more than a great deal of ingenious argumentation. The reason however, why we have referred specially to this new party movement at the West is to show the utter want of basis which is extant for any such political undertaking at the present time, otherwise we should certainly have something more tangible, substantial and important than this Indianapolis demonstration. The mutation of the coming year may wholly change the political prospects in this regard, but now it looks as if the two old parties either as they are or else revised and improved must settle between them the Presidential contest of 1876.

James Russell Lowell has authorized the statement that the offer of the office of Minister to Russia, which was made formally a few days ago by President Grant, through Secretary Fish, has been definitely refused by him. The reasons for his refusal are largely personal, consisting in part of a disinclination to live in St Petersburg, but chiefly the ill-health with which at present, unhappily, some of the members of his family are afflicted. The tender was certainly creditable to the Administration.

Judging from the peculiar kindness and good taste manifested by the Portland Argus, Press and a few other papers, we presume that they will regret to learn of a decided improvement in General Harvey's health, and that he is more hopeful of entire recovery than at any time during his sickness. The General's large circle of friends, however, and all who have a human sympathy for those stricken down by sickness, will be pleased to know that of late there has been no recurrence of the most painful symptoms and that he is cheerful and confident, attending daily to more or less of business matters, and determined to get well again.

It is now ascertained that the new Democratic code of Georgia, as lately amended, contains a provision designed to serve the same purpose as the Texas law, to which we have called attention. Under it a black man may be taken forcibly from the county of his residence and sold into involuntary slavery, or hired (which is the same thing) in another or remote county of the State, while the guard necessary for his safe keeping will be the master to whom he will be hired and the duration of his servitude may be prolonged indefinitely.

The Boston Advertiser declares on the most reliable authority that the reports of suffering in the mining districts of Pennsylvania are grossly exaggerated. Although work is somewhat dull, there is nothing like a stoppage and that on average the miners in that region are earning more money than are the workmen in the mills and manufactories in Massachusetts.

Bangor and Portland have uttered their laments over the inconvenience of the new railroad arrangement, and now Lewiston complains through the Journal as follows

The new arrangements of the time table on the Maine Central Railroad give no train direct to Augusta without a delay at Brunswick. The only feasible train by which to reach Augusta will be the one that leaves here at noon and that will … a stop of an hour and a half at Brunswick. This arrangement practically removes Augusta a hundred miles from Lewiston.

THE REBEL VIRUS. The Southern correspondent of the Chicago Inter Ocean is not at all encouraged by the signs of the times in the locality he has lately visited. In his last letter he says

Said the Hon Mr. Christian, late Major General in the Confederate service and at present Commander in Chief of the Garland militia, the other day

"It is about time to begin cracking necks." The cracking of necks would have begun just two years ago replied ex-Governor Hadly of Arkansas, late of the Federal Army. POLITICAL AND PERSONAL Secretary Fish was not threatened with apoplexy. It was a sardine who said it was.

Official returns from Michigan show that the Legislature stands on joint ballot 1 R … publicans and 61 Democrats.

The friends of a "God in the Constitution" amendment are preparing for a national convention on Dec. 15 and 16.

Thus far Boston is the only municipality where all parties have united in selecting the same gentleman as candidate for Mayor.

This is a good time not to say much about the Presidential campaign. There is a Republican National Convention yet to be heard from.—[Chicago Tribune.

It is stated that the next Congress will have two members of the Tenth Alabama Confederate Regiment. What a proof they are of the despotism of the American Government.

Judge Jerry Black himself a candidate for the office, says there are more candidates for the United States Senatorship for Pennsylvania than there are shad in the Susquehanna.

The colored people of Georgia pay taxes on assessed property to the amount of $6,157,798. Every county in the State reports some colored tax payers. They show a predilection for city property. The largest amount on which any one person pays taxes is $10 805. Eight of the fifteen persons who pay taxes on more than $5 000 are women.

Alexander H. Stephens tells a reporter that he has a friendly feeling for the President whom he regards as a sensible practical man and does not hesitate to avow it, but sensational rumors to the effect that he Mosby and other Southern men are in Grant's confidence and secretly furthering his third term aspirations, are wholly unfounded so far as Mr Stephens is concerned.

It is astonishing that an American editor abroad, like Col Forney, could pack so much error into one sentence as he does in the following —

"The American people have declared that they want the means by which to live, and this can be furnished by the simple process of stopping the reduction of the public debt, increasing the circulating medium, and building our transcontinental railroads."

Now that the Commonwealth Club has started under most favorable auspices, it is proposed to start another club. It is to meet only at caucuses and at the polls. Non attendance at a primary will cost members $5, non-attendance at the polls, $10. After paying off the city debt with the funds thus accumulated, the balance will be appropriated toward establishing a Professorship of Practical Politics at Harvard College.

One of the oldest merchants of New York has just passed away, Jonathan Sturges, a wealthy member of the Chamber of Commerce, who has long been identified with several business interests in that city, died Sunday night at his residence, at the ripe age of seventy three. His health has been failing for several years past, so that his demise was not unexpected. Mr. Sturges was a member of many charitable institutions.

The German Reichstag has passed to a second reading the bill carrying into effect the provisions of the Berne Postal Congress.

Six inches of snow fell at Toronto Saturday and the storm prevailed throughout Canada.

THIRD ENTERTAINMENT

THE CONCERT OF THE SEASON

FRIDAY Evening, December 4th

BOSTON PHILHARMONIC CLUB!

Consisting of the finest combination of Solo Talent in America, late

Principal SOLOISTS of the THOMAS ORCHESTRA

BERNHARD LISTEMANN, Violin Soloist. Late Violin Soloist of the Thomas Orchestra.
FRITZ LISTEMANN, Violin Soloist. Late First Violinist of the Thomas Orchestra.
EMILL GRAMM, Viola Soloist. Formerly of Thomas Orchestra.
ADOLF BELZ, French Horn Soloist. Formerly of the famous Royal Orchestra of the King of Wurtemburg.
ADOLF HARTDEGEN, Violincello Soloist. Late Cello Soloist of the Emperor of Brazil.
EUGENE WEINER, Flute Soloist. Late of the Thomas Orchestra.
Assisted by MISS MAY A BRYANT, Soprano.

One of the principal and pleasing features in this Concert will be the fine Solo performances.

The Boston Globe says of the opening concert. "The combination of talent which the club exhibits is certainly far ahead of anything Boston has ever seen, each member being a solo performer. With such talent, the concert could have been nothing less than superb."

Price of Tickets with Reserved seats, only 50 cents each.

This will be the last entertainment of the course previous to the holiday season. The fourth entertainment, lecture by Rev W. H H Murray, will be on January 20th, 1875. The fifth entertainment "Opera of Martha," will be on February 11th. Seats may be secured for either entertainment at any time, for only 50 cents each to any part of the Hall. F S. AN INSURANCE CASE

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 30. This afternoon Judge Bradley, of the Probate Court, and Judge Beardsley, of the Superior Court, delivered opinions on the question of the constitutionality of the Connecticut law concerning life insurance companies, raised by a special plea of the American National Life and Trust Insurance Company on application of the insurance commissioner for the appointment of a trustee over the same. The Judges agreed that the enactment was constitutional, and an order was issued citing the company and the commissioner before the Probate Court for a hearing next Monday at 10 A. M. The counsel for the company give notice that they will appeal that day and ask for a delay in the proceedings. The commissioner has already made two complete investigations, the second at the request of the dissatisfied directors. The same results were reached in both.

MAYOR WILLIAM F. HAVEMEYER.

His Sudden Death From Apoplexy.

Tributes to the Memory of the Deceased.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MAYOR HAVEMEYER

NEW YORK, Nov 30 Mayor Havemeyer visited Flushing, L I, to day, and on his return, the train broke down, and he was obliged to walk two miles against a strong wind He died shortly after reaching his office in City Hall of apoplexy

FULL PARTICULARS OF THE MAYOR'S DEATH

Flags at the City Hall and other public buildings are hung at half mast. The Post gives the following account of the death of Mayor Havemeyer

Mayor William F Havemeyer died in his private office in the City Hall at ten minutes past 12 o clock, after an illness of but a few moments He spent Sunday at the residence of Oliver Charlick on Long Island, and left there this morning to return by rail A break occurred below Flushing, and there being a prospect of considerable delay Havemeyer started to walk to Hunter's Point. He came to City Hall about twenty minutes before 12 o clock where he was met in the outer office by Alderman Morris who immediately noticed that he did not appear in his usual health He seemed quite exhausted and taking a seat he explained the reason of his delay He described his walk, which was of about three miles, and complained of great [illegible] from his [illegible] exercise which he thought was brought on by exposure to the high wind Alderman Morris who feared that the Mayor might suffer from exposure and over-exertion urged him to send for a physician and to go home immediately After resting in his outer office for a few minutes he said that he felt better and after a fit of belching, which he said had been repeated twice before he retired to the inner office and proceeded to open correspondence. He had broken two or three letters and was just examining a note enclosing a check for [illegible] succumbed to his when he rose from his chair and attempted to cross the floor. He had tottered but a few steps, when he [illegible] suddenly down backward He was [illegible] to fall by School Commissioner Baker, and Halloran a messenger, who immediately called out to Alderman Morris who was still in the outer room Morris sent directly to the Park Hospital for a physician By this time cause consciousness entirely deserted the Mayor who lay upon the floor of his office His shoes were removed, his clothing loosened, and his hands and feet were chafed in hopes of restoring the circulation Dr Wengler of the Park Hospital soon arrived, but upon examination declared that he was dead He did not utter a word after the attack, and only lifted his hand to his head in a mechanical way as he fell, when it dropped heavily at his side The physician gave his opinion that he died of apoplexy superinduced by the over exertion of the morning The body of the Mayor was placed upon a lounge in the inner office, police were stationed about the entrance of the office and a message despatched to apprise his family of his death Mayor Havemeyer has been in good health not having complained of illness recently, and the announcement of his sudden death [illegible] very unexpectedly upon the ears of his friends.

THE TRAGIC TERMINATION OF THE LIBEL SUIT KELLEY vs HAVEMEYER

An extraordinary and tragic termination took place to-day in the libel suit of John Kelly vs Mayor Havemeyer The case came up before Judge Westbrook in the Supreme Court chambers at 11 o clock on a motion to strike out a portion of the answer as irrelevant. Col Wingate had just got through the motion, and Judge Waterbury was replying when a sudden commotion occurred followed by a painful silence After some minutes of whispered consultation between the Court and the counsel, Mr Clinton of counsel for plaintiff, moved an adjournment of the Court in consequence of the news just arrived of the sudden death of the Mayor

TRIBUTES TO THE MEMORY OF THE DECEASED MAYOR.

Judge Porter, counsel for the defence supported the motion and in doing so paid a tribute to the exalted character of the deceased, and said it was only justice to the deceased to say that he had no doubt he would have been vindicated on trial, and would have proved what he believed he could prove

Judge Westbrook, in granting the motion, said whatever differences of opinion there might be as to some acts of Mayor Havemeyer's public life they would all concede that he was an honest man, possessing many claims on the public.

In the Supreme Court Circuit Mr Miller of the Corporation Counsel moved an adjournment, Judge Van Vorst in granting the motion said he always respected Mayor Havemeyer as a merchant and in every other position in private life. He believed him to be an honest and upright man Judge Van Brunt in the Supreme Court, special term and Judge Brady in the Circuit announced the adjournment of the courts. Judge Freeman in the Superior Court, made a similar order None of the other courts were sitting Alderman Vance was sworn as Acting Mayor, at 2.30 P. M. Mr Clinton regretted reference to the merits of the case and said as Judge Porter almost regretted the opportunity for trying them he would be as [illegible] that the same fact would be tried in a suit by the same plaintiff against Judge [illegible]

SUMMONED TO THE CHAMBER OF DEATH.

During the trial of a case in the Supreme Court to day before Judge Brady, John Havemeyer son of Mayor Havemeyer, was on the jury when news came of the Mayor's death The Judge immediately called Mr Havemeyer to the bench and informed him of his loss [illegible] excused him from further service. Some other relatives of the Mayor were present at the marriage of his nephew Mr Harriott, to Miss Morris, an actress At 2 30 P M the remains of the deceased Mayor were taken from City Hall to his late residence in West 14th street. An immense crowd of people were present

PROFESSOR MARSH'S EXPEDITION

A LARGE AND VALUABLE COLLECTION OF FOSSIL REMAINS SECURED

NEW YORK, Nov 30 Professor Marsh and party returned to Fort Laramie yesterday from the Bad Lands south of the Black Hills. They left Red Cloud Agency, and crossed White river, notwithstanding the Indians's threats, and were watched by the Indians every step of the way. After the Indians found the party were really searching for bones and not for gold, they were not disturbed, but a constant watch was kept by the guards. The weather was very severe, the thermometer being below zero, but they persevered The fossil beds explored were of the miocene age, and, though limited in extent, proved rich beyond expectation Nearly two tons of fossil bones were collected, most of them rare specimens, and many unknown to science. These remains were all of tropical animals entombed in a bed of an ancient lake Some of them were as large as elephants others were allied to the camel and rhinoceros. The collection, one of the finest ever made in the West, goes to Yale College, and will settle many doubtful points in palaeontology Professor Marsh leaves for the East on Tuesday

PERU

THE SEIZED STEAMER TALISMAN

NEW YORK, Nov 30 Peruvian dates of the [illegible] state that the steamer Talisman which was run away with by [illegible] has been recaptured in the Bay of [illegible] by the iron clad Huascar Over [illegible] packages of arms and ammunition were found on board Some [illegible] and several of the crew [illegible] had driven out the garrison of the port of [illegible] but when they discovered that the Talisman had been captured, they fled to the interior of Moquegua which they captured and Peroli declared himself Dictator. The Government has sent troops there and has probably recaptured the place The capture of the Talisman doubtless destroyed all hopes of a concerted revolutionary plot against the Government. The Talisman is now at anchor at Callao with the [illegible] Haddo [illegible], a prisoner

THE VESSEL FITTED IN ENGLISH WATERS WITH A LARGE SUPPLY OF WAR MATERIAL

It appears that the steamer Talisman, like the rebel cruisers during the American rebellion was fitted out in English waters, for when the President of Peru went on board of her after her capture and arrival at Callao to the astonishment of the officers accompanying him, he found a duplicate copy of the cargo she had on board when she left Cardiff last August Ten hundred and thirty packages were placed in her hold at that port composed chiefly of war material [illegible] Gatling guns rifles, ammunition uniforms and other materials. It was discovered that the revolutionary party who abandoned the Talisman in the Bay of Ilo, when the Huascar was seen bearing down upon them left nearly two thirds of this formidable assortment of weapons and powder on board and the arsenal in Lima has once been enriched with the remainder The Talisman is a small vessel of only 134 tons register fast and easily managed and was engaged previously in the plying Don Carlos

MONEY FOR THE WAR

The Peruvian Congress has granted authority to the President to raise $5 000 000 to put down the insurrection and give him power to increase the army.

ASSASSINATED

A late despatch from Callao, dated Nov 6th says that Pierola and party on arrival at Moquegua surprised the Prefect in bed cut his throat and killed thirty of the Government forces The assassination will cause the speedy downfall of the Pierola pirates The people in that region do not favor his cause but he holds the mountain fastnesses, and will be driven out by siege and starvation

A professional gentleman of prominence, residing in Lewiston, writes of his lecture in that city that in their course they have not heard his equal. Tickets are for sale at Hughes's.

FIRE IN WATERVILLE. Under date of yesterday, "Spectator" writes "An unoccupied house, situated on the river bank near the old Portland and Kennebec Depots, was discovered to be on fire early last evening The fire apparently originated in the cellar, and worked its way up through the partition to the roof, which made it difficult for the firemen, who were promptly on hand, to get the fire under control until the building was pretty effectually gutted As the house had been unoccupied for several days, the fire is supposed to be incendiary The house was owned by Samuel Knauff, and was insured "

—In another column will be found a full description of the important improvements which have been made in the public school buildings of Bangor the present season, which would lead one to wonder how so much has been accomplished with the comparatively small amount of money which was appropriated for that purpose Among other items in this connection, he mentioned in the article, one hundred and fifty five two-horse loads of filth were taken from the cellars of fifteen of these school houses

DEATH OF CHAPIN HUMPHREY, Esq The death of Chapin Humphrey Esq at his residence on Broadway last evening, will be a shock to the community in which he has been known for many years On yesterday morning he went to his place of business apparently in good health and at half past 8 o'clock was stricken with paralysis losing the use of his right side He was taken home where he received the best possible medical attention but the paralysis continued to extend to other parts of the body during the afternoon he was in an unconscious condition, and at twenty minutes to nine o clock in the evening he breathed his last. He was about fifty years of age, and leaves a wife to mourn his sudden loss He came to Bangor about twenty years ago since which time he has been engaged in the wool business and in [illegible] manufacturing on Centre street Mr Humphrey was a man of retiring habit but of a genial character genial [illegible] to [illegible] and was one of the most esteemed and respected citizens of Bangor In 1872-3 he was Alderman from Ward Five and for two years previous had represented the ward in the common council as [illegible] of the members of the City Government He was a member of the Board of Trustees of [illegible] and of the Maine [illegible] the annual meeting of which he had designed to attend, and was a prominent member of the First Baptist church His native place was [illegible] and his remains will be taken to Springfield Mass for interment leaving by this evening's train

BANGOR SCHOOL HOUSES

IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENTS THAT HAVE BEEN MADE THE PRESENT YEAR

Last spring $11 000 were appropriated by the City Council for much needed repairs and improvements in the school houses of Bangor. NEW MAGAZINES

THE ALDINE for December comes freighted with all the good things of art and literature. This being the holiday or Christmas number of the year, it need scarcely be said that pictorially it will fill the very highest expectations of those familiar with its pages. Four pictures of the seasons, Spring, Summer, Autumn and Winter, each with a verse of illustration, present the finest engraving and printing, to be found even in this high-class publication. The Old Mill in the Jura Mountains, after E C Dubois, has a world of rugged strength and design, blended with careful and elaborate detail Two charming pictures appropriate for the season, Winter Pastimes, and the First Lesson, tell pretty and interesting stories in a graceful manner To be thoroughly appreciated one needs to give the number a careful examination, and all the pictures will come in for a share of praise. The number, from holiday reasons lacking a little in prose variety, is especially rich in poetry, and readers can be but thoroughly satisfied with the final number for 1874. The Aldine Company, publishers, Nos. 58 Maiden Lane, New York.

THE PENN MONTHLY The December number presents the following table of contents The Month, Outlines of Penology, Schiller's Journal Some Recent Helps in the Study of Shakspeare, What Would Tyndall Be At? Training Schools for Nurses, The Prophet, etc Published at 506 Walnut street, Philadelphia.

We have received the November number of the NATIONAL TEACHER'S MONTHLY a magazine designed for teachers It is neat in appearance and contains a good supply of matter Published by A. S Barnes & Co New York

HORRIBLE DEATH OF TWO INEBRIATES A horrible story is current at Troy, N Y of a singular and barbarous murder recently committed A carpenter named Elias Williams began the erection of a wooden farm house in the midst of a forest in a wild district about [illegible] miles north of Wellstown, Hamilton county He hired Geo Smith to assist him in the work One day after they had drank many times from a jug of liquor, the two men began desperately to quarrel and finally were involved in a deadly fight Williams in the course of the struggle threw Smith over a wooden sawhorse and with a hand saw which he all the time held in his hand sawed off the head of his antagonist severing it entirely from the body His rage cooling, horror came and he cut the great vein of his own throat with the saw, falling a corpse beside the remains of Smith A lad named Grant witnessed the tragedy and conveyed the news two miles to people who reached the scene of the crime. Williams was a married man and Smith a bachelor Both were buried Sunday last

THE BEECHER-TILTON CASE The return in the Beecher-Tilton appeal has been filed with the clerk of the Court of Appeals at Albany by the attorneys for Mr Beecher and the argument of the appeal placed on the calendar for Tuesday The matter excites great interest and the Court of Appeals Chamber will be crowded [illegible] Roger A Pryor will [illegible] for Tilton [illegible] [illegible] will be ready to go on with the trial of the case on December [illegible] as they fully expect that the Court of Appeals will have decided the question as to a bill of particulars before that time.

Judge Neilson has notified Mr George W Knoder deputy clerk of the City Court to prepare a requisition to the Commissioner of Jurors for a special panel of 1000 petit jurors to assemble in room No 23 of the Court House at 10 o clock on Dec 8 It was first thought that 500 jurors would be sufficient, but the Court, to insure the security of a jury [illegible] to have double that number summoned One of the judges of the City Court has expressed the belief that the civil action in the Beecher-Tilton scandal would be tried on the day fixed for its hearing The argument on the appeal, if heard on Tuesday, would be decided by the Court of Appeals within two or three days at the farthest. Should the court of last resort decide adversely to the respondent and order that a bill of particulars be furnished this need not necessarily delay the trial of the case Such a bill could be furnished in half an hour, and the case proceed at once.

THE SHOOTING AT WEST GORHAM An affair occurred in West Gorham last Wednesday night which has been kept very quiet, and which resulted in the death of one man and the serious shooting of another We are not in possession of all the particulars of the sad affair, but as far as we have been able to learn them the facts are substantially that a man named Skillings, Wednesday night, heard a commotion among his turkeys, and going out to ascertain the cause of the disturbance discovered two men attempting to steal the fowl He called out to them, but they paid no attention to him, when he took a double barreled gun which he had and fired The first shot struck one of the thieves named Perkins, and wounded him so severely that he died soon after Skillings then fired again, and thirty-seven buckshots lodged in different parts of the body of a man named Blake His injuries, although very serious, are not likely to prove fatal Last season Mr Skillings had twenty five turkeys and chickens stolen from him Perkins was a man of bad reputation, as was also Blake.—Argus.

The Glasgow University boys thus sang the praises of Ralph Waldo Emerson, to the air of the "Soldiers' chorus" in Faust, while the latter was candidate for Lord Rector:

O bid him come! the divine one, come
Hither once more from his sylvan home
Welcome the wisdom of world-old woods!
Welcome the voice of those sacred, remote
Wild solitudes!
Bid the brotherhood bright of one blood to thrill
Both the nations, and make of them one heart and will!
Bring the year man may walk in the sole light and fear
Of the spirit of man, the divine long year,
The republican year!

Chorus.

LOVE'S AFTER-MATH

It was mid-summer and the grass again
Had grown knee-deep where stood my wife and I,
And hidden silence with the stream runs by
Sadly we listened to age's plaintive strain—
Sure by a fair maid to a happy swain—
Ah me! of sweet days remembered made us sigh,
And brought the tear-drop to my wife's blue eye.
If spring be past, I said, I shall love remain?

She moved aside—for soon she answered me
And her grass turned responsive to mine own
Long days are gone and now the grass we see
Waves o'er both pair—such is faith growth
Darkness has so over-shaded may be
A sober growth than over spring days have known.

ABOUT A BARREL OF LARD

My uncle, Ben Slaughter, was an extensive cattle-dealer who every fall sent his drovers with herds of beeves to Washington, Baltimore, and Philadelphia. Along the way he sold them off in lots to farmers who stall-fed them through the winter, and in the spring and early summer supplied our markets with fat beef. In the fall of 1807, the year of the great commercial crisis, he visited me for the first time since I had married and stopped with me during his stay in Philadelphia.

He was an early settler in Kentucky and well acquainted with Boone Kenton, and other old pioneers who remained for a time after he went out. He was tall, well-proportioned, and for a man of seventy, erect and of easy carriage. He was also a man of temperate habits and simple tastes. His chief hobby was blooded stock. Of course he was an admirer of good horse-manship. So one evening we went to the circus. When we returned as I opened the street door with my latch-key, and we walked in he exclaimed:

Whew-ee! I smell oysters! From a cheery voice from the stairway rang out: "Walk right in, gentlemen! Uncle Ben, you and Ajax I'll be down presently. I hear the baby stirring, so she has some new teeth coming through, but she will soon be quiet. We walked in and found a tureen of smoking oysters and a pitcher of foaming ale, with bread, butter and pickles on the table.

My wife soon joined us and we sat down to supper. After it was over and the table was cleared and set in its place against the wall she drew her worsted before the grate of glowing coals and sat down to her sewing. Then Uncle, the old man to repeat to Sue—that is my wife—a story which he once told me in my boyhood. So he finished the cigar I was smoking and began.

You see I moved out to Kentucky a long time before railroads were thought of or before the National Road across the Alleghanies was even contemplated. Wagons from our region (Virginia then went through Winchester) crossed the mountains and then came to the Ohio opposite the place where the town of Maysville now stands. Here we made flat boats loaded them with our stuff and floated on the river. People in those days sent back furs, bacon, lard and whiskey all the way to Baltimore and Philadelphia by the same water route we traveled.

As you know I was a childless widower at forty when I married your Aunt Polly. Before going to our Virginian way of farming we merely managed to live comfortably. But as my father used to say, "The dogs ate all the corn and the niggers ate all the hogs." I had no go ahead. We dry goods and dentured to emigrate. So with my new wife, my hundred dollars in gold, three teams filled with provisions and stuff, a few negroes and some choice horses and cattle I joined Shackleford's train at Winchester one fine morning in September. We travelled along slowly of course but pretty comfortably, camping by the side of a stream or spring at night. Sometimes we would have to ford a river, but usually we found a ferry-boat. Before we got to the Little Kanawha and I was tired of the slow team, one afternoon at a blacksmith's shop and I stopped to get him to shoe a horse. I had a chat with the blacksmith, who was a Revolutionary soldier, and then went on with Shackleford. Next day I heard a horse shrill whistle, and then I heard a long back. I saw two men coming up and go into the blacksmith shop. I rode back to see if it was those men forced the river and I drove up the long hill on the west. It was only pulling and I had to walk my wheels every hundred yards or so. At last I got on a level road, when I suddenly heard a long spring wagon came out from a lane right at the top of my wagon. I had two wagons, my horses who stopped from behind the rock but the dog, my blacksmith. I wondered how to enlighten me. I must have taken some gear out to get it off my back before I did. When this occurred to me I did not. Suppose I had not been followed by the two men, but by Shackleford's party, who had come up behind me? I drove on a little further and then stopped. I had a good deal of ammunition with me, and I thought I would survey the battlefield before I took the road westward. As I crossed I heard the sound of horses' feet coming rapidly up the road. In a few moments Shackleford appeared in sight, rifle in hand. Then followed a dozen of my old neighbors. On they came, and such shouting and yelling when they saw me you never heard. They had given me up for murdered and Polly Slaughter had made up her mind that she was a widow.

"The rascals had driven my team into a timber road a little distance ahead cut the traces, and immediately left for parts unknown. Shackleford hunted them with a sharp stick, but to no purpose. The wagon and horse were found the day I was missing. I had come to and wandered away to the brook, while they were scouring the woods at some distance in the hollow on the other side of the road. I wondered that Driver, my old deer hound, who was with them had not scented me, but I supposed the feebler trail of the men and horses put him at fault. Some of the men forded the river in search of the blacksmith, for he had a bad name in the neighborhood, and threatened to burn his house, and they would have done so but for his wife and her little cotton headed children.

"When we got to Kentucky, and Shackleford found I had money to pay for the land, notwithstanding I had been robbed I had to tell him the whole story about finding the gold, but bound him to secrecy, as I had a fear that I might be traced and waylaid by the robbers to recover their gold. It was at my own cabin I made the confession, and showed him the stick I had picked up by my money belt and used as a cane. He scanned it carefully for some time, and then laid it down, saying it was a part of the stave of a barrel and looked as if it had been gnawed by bears.

"After paying Shackleford for my farm, I bought government lands on speculation, and was very successful selling them in two or three years at four or five times as much as I gave. I was a good woodsman and a good judge of land, and I explored and afterward located, and then got warrants for fine lands known in those days as the Barrens in the Green River country, which was not then appreciated. People thought that because of its growth,—pine, oak, and so forth,—it was poor land, but I soon found out the contrary, and profited by their mistake.

"As I was saying, I was exceedingly fortunate in my land speculations, and the money I found in this here doubled and doubled itself every few years. When I let out the secret of being such a winner by being robbed, few or none believed my story. It was generally thought I took the gold up by Shackleford in his absence,—for he was home at the time on a vacation,—and that I endeavored to get the son of the thing. I even suspected, and money when I got and stood in the path, for I was anxious to return it to the rightful owner. But I was only laughed at by publishing such an improbable story. People often ridiculed it in the Louisville Journal after he started that paper. To this day the story—although I was the chief actor in the drama goes by the name of Shackleford's yarn.

"I have kept a regular account, principal and compound interest at ten per cent., that I may pay it some day to the rightful owner or his heirs. If they should ever turn up for it was the foundation of my fortune. If they never appear, the amount at my death is to go to certain institutions mentioned in my will for the benefit of my fellow men. For I have ever considered it a loan from the Giver of all good, and I intend to return it."

When my uncle had finished his story I looked at my wife. The bloom on her cheek had faded. There was a singularly wild though serious expression in her face. She arose from her chair, and approaching the old man lifted her hands and laying one on each shoulder looked with her small gray eyes into his. "Uncle Ben," she said "I think you are sincere, that you are honest, that you are noble by nature and that you will keep any promise you make to your fellow man or to your Maker. God help us, my dear uncle." With a sob and this she kissed his wrinkled cheek and bidding him good night went upstairs.

After talking with Uncle Ben a short time and lighting him to bed I found Sue in her chamber. She was sitting on the lounge by the side of the baby's crib wrapped in serious thought. My coming me to take a seat by her side she said—

"Ajax that is a strange story that Uncle Ben has been telling us. If there was any reason for doubting it I think I could produce corroborative evidence to prove it.

Why how you talk! Sue, and if we could get at it!

Well—no matter about it now." Then, suddenly changing the subject, "What amount did you think the house was mortgaged for?

Eight thousand dollars my Sue. The bond is now overdue and the other is strugging to maintain itself and says he must go to protest if it is not paid within ten days. I have tried my best to have the mortgages renewed in other banks but in vain. I see no hope. I to invest during this terrible crisis so in a few days I fear we shall have the sheriff's placard posted against our front door. I see those will speculations in Mississippi and Texas lands in which my New Orleans partner ventured, and the world less bills of exchange had remitted us. I have got us into all this trouble.

What amount of County S. C. a bill did you hold, and where are they now?

Thirty two thousand five hundred dollars which we left at home for safety. I have been to the Farmers and Mechanics Bank. But Mr Patton on whose influence with the president and directors I could depend assures me he can make that all easy. A kinder heart for unfortunate debtor never throbbed. Upon his faith in arranging that the bank will hold the protested bills as collateral if I can only pay ten per cent. on them every ninety days. Although he blames me as he says for putting so many eggs into one basket he has no doubt that Comly's paper will eventually be worth fifty cents on a dollar.

QUININE HAIR TONIC.

Something which has long been needed.

Every day we hear of some case of paralysis, softening of the brain or some nervous disorder of the head resulting from the use of hair preparations containing lead sulphur, bismuth or other mineral substance equally poisonous. The use of these preparations is always attended with danger and unadjusted fact, they are valueless, and should not be used for dressing the hair. What has long been needed is a preparation like Bayolina, which is not a restorer or dye contains neither lead, sulphur, bismuth, or any mineral substance whatever. It is purely a luxurious hair dressing. Keeps the hair from falling out, promotes its growth eradicates dandruff, cleanses the scalp, is not greasy or sticky, does not soil and will leave it free of color. Has had no rival obtained by no other preparation for an intended purpose it has never been equalled.

Prepared by LEVI TOWAR, Jr Boston Mass. For sale everywhere by druggists, 50 cents a bottle.

Cough Balsam

IS THE GREAT POPULAR MEDICINE

AND IS VERY VALUABLE in ORDINARY COUGH.

A dose is about one-half to one teaspoonful when ever the cough is troublesome.

Asthma or Phthisic.

Mix a quantity of Balsam with an equal quantity of water and take two teaspoonfuls every half hour until you begin to feel relief afterwards a small dose should be taken occasionally as symptoms require.

Whooping Cough.

To break up a severe attack of coughing a teaspoonful of the Balsam mixed in a little warm water and relief is almost certainly to follow. Keeping off the mucous depression is often all the attack and entirely so. This is especially important in every case. Give as large a dose of the Balsam as the child will bear without its being thrown off the stomach.

LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES.

Passed at the First Session of the Forty-third Congress.

[GENERAL NATURE—No 97]

AN ACT for the creation of a court for the adjudication and disposition of certain moneys in the Treasury under an award made by the tribunal of arbitration constituted by the first article of a treaty concluded at Washington the eighth of May anno Domini eighteen hundred and seventy-one between the United States of America and Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled That the President of the United States be and he is hereby authorized to appoint by and with the advice and consent of the Senate a judge learned in the law, who shall hold a court for the trial and determination of all claims which may be presented to him by the agent of the United States appointed to present the case of the United States before the tribunal of arbitration constituted by the treaty concluded at Washington on the eighth day of May anno Domini eighteen hundred and seventy-one between the United States of America and Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain.

Sec. 2. That the said judge shall be appointed by the President of the United States by and with the advice and consent of the Senate and shall hold his office during the pleasure of the President. He shall receive a salary of ten thousand dollars per annum, which shall be in full compensation for all his services and expenses in the performance of his duties under this act. He shall appoint a clerk who shall receive a salary of three thousand dollars per annum, which shall be in full compensation for all his services and expenses in the performance of his duties under this act. He shall appoint a marshal who shall receive a salary of three thousand dollars per annum, which shall be in full compensation for all his services and expenses in the performance of his duties under this act. He shall appoint a messenger who shall receive a salary of one thousand dollars per annum, which shall be in full compensation for all his services and expenses in the performance of his duties under this act. He shall appoint a crier who shall receive a salary of one thousand dollars per annum, which shall be in full compensation for all his services and expenses in the performance of his duties under this act. He shall appoint a janitor who shall receive a salary of one thousand dollars per annum, which shall be in full compensation for all his services and expenses in the performance of his duties under this act. He shall appoint a watchman who shall receive a salary of one thousand dollars per annum, which shall be in full compensation for all his services and expenses in the performance of his duties under this act. He shall appoint a messenger who shall receive a salary of one thousand dollars per annum, which shall be in full compensation for all his services and expenses in the performance of his duties under this act.

Sec. 3. That the said court shall report to the Secretary of State a list of the several judgments and decisions made by it, a certified copy of which shall upon the conclusion of the business of the said court, be by him transmitted to the Secretary of the Treasury, who shall thereafter, as soon as may be, and upon such notice and in such manner as he shall prescribe, pay the said judgments together with interest at the rate of four per centum per annum on the amount of each such judgment from the date certified, until the persons, respectively in whose favor the same shall have been made or to their respective legal representatives in full satisfaction and discharge of such judgments and interest. That if the sum of all the judgments rendered by the said court together with interest shall exceed the amount received into the Treasury of the United States as proceeds of the sum to be paid by Great Britain, by virtue of said decision, then and in that event the Secretary of the Treasury shall distribute, in ratable proportions, among the parties in whose favor judgments shall have been rendered or to their legal representatives, such moneys as have been received into the Treasury, according to the proportion which their respective judgments shall bear to the whole amount received into the Treasury as aforesaid, which payments shall be in full satisfaction and discharge of such claims and judgments.

Section 18. That the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized and required to pay the said respective judgments of said court, out of any such money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, and for that purpose he is hereby authorized when necessary to issue and sell at public sale after ten days' notice, of the time and place of sale, at not less than par in coin, a sufficient amount of bonds of the United States, of any form or denomination, not exceeding in coin of the present standard value of the proceeds of the sum to be paid by Great Britain, as aforesaid, after deducting therefrom such moneys as have been received into the Treasury, and which shall be applied to the payment of said judgments, and for the payment of the interest thereon, and for the payment of the expenses of the court, and of the officers thereof, which shall be paid out of the moneys received into the Treasury as aforesaid. And the bonds so issued shall be redeemable at the pleasure of the United States at any time after the expiration of five years from the date of their issue, and bearing interest payable quarterly in coin at the rate of five per centum per annum; and upon the payment from time to time of the said respective judgments of said court as before provided, the bonds of the United States aforesaid, in the last approved March-blast, eighteen hundred and seventy-three, entitled "An act for the establishment of a court for the adjudication of certain claims against Great Britain, arising out of the late rebellion in the United States, and for the payment of such claims," approved June 25th 1874.

Section 19. That the said court shall have power to establish such rules and modes of procedure before the said court as shall be found necessary to effectuate the purposes of this act, regulating the forms of proceedings before the said court as shall be found necessary to effectuate the purposes of this act, regulating the forms of proceedings before the said court as far as practicable to those now used in the courts of the United States; and such rules and modes of procedure when established by the said court shall be reported to the Secretary of State, and by him communicated to the Secretary of the Treasury, and shall be published in such manner as he shall prescribe, pay the said judgments together with interest at the rate of four per centum per annum on the amount of each such judgment from the date certified, until the persons, respectively in whose favor the same shall have been made or to their respective legal representatives in full satisfaction and discharge of such judgments and interest. That if the sum of all the judgments rendered by the said court together with interest shall exceed the amount received into the Treasury of the United States as proceeds of the sum to be paid by Great Britain, by virtue of said decision, then and in that event the Secretary of the Treasury shall distribute, in ratable proportions, among the parties in whose favor judgments shall have been rendered or to their legal representatives, such moneys as have been received into the Treasury, according to the proportion which their respective judgments shall bear to the whole amount received into the Treasury as aforesaid, which payments shall be in full satisfaction and discharge of such claims and judgments.

Section 18. That the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized and required to pay the said respective judgments of said court, out of any such money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, and for that purpose he is hereby authorized when necessary to issue and sell at public sale after ten days' notice, of the time and place of sale, at not less than par in coin, a sufficient amount of bonds of the United States, of any form or denomination, not exceeding in coin of the present standard value of the proceeds of the sum to be paid by Great Britain, as aforesaid, after deducting therefrom such moneys as have been received into the Treasury, and which shall be applied to the payment of said judgments, and for the payment of the interest thereon, and for the payment of the expenses of the court, and of the officers thereof, which shall be paid out of the moneys received into the Treasury as aforesaid. And the bonds so issued shall be redeemable at the pleasure of the United States at any time after the expiration of five years from the date of their issue, and bearing interest payable quarterly in coin at the rate of five per centum per annum; and upon the payment from time to time of the said respective judgments of said court as before provided, the bonds of the United States aforesaid, in the last approved March-blast, eighteen hundred and seventy-three, entitled "An act for the establishment of a court for the adjudication of certain claims against Great Britain, arising out of the late rebellion in the United States, and for the payment of such claims," approved June 25th 1874.
